Revival hope for Falcon Tyres

Large and Medium Scale Industries Minister K.J. George assures early solution

Large and Medium Scale Industries Minister K.J. George seen chairing the meeting at DC's office in city this morning as Ministers, Legislators and officials look on.

Mysuru, July 24 (RK&DM)- With one of the major industries in the city, Falcon Tyres Ltd. on KRS Road, closed for over three years, rendering hundreds of workers and employees jobless, Large and Medium Scale Industries Minister K.J. George, who was in city this morning, held a meeting with all stakeholders at the Deputy Commissioner's (DC) Office here this noon to discuss the possibilities of reviving the factory.

Soon as the meeting began, Falcon Tyres Employees Union Legal Advisor and Trade Union leader H.R. Seshadri apprised the Minister about the current status of the factory.

Pointing out that the factory, established over four decades ago, is one of the largest two-wheeler tyres and tubes manufacturer in Asia, Seshadri noted that the factory slipped into downslide in 2014, before shutting down in 2015.

Maintaining that the employees were not paid salaries for years and other statutory benefits such as PF, Gratuity, ESI etc., he said that an NCLT (National Company Law Tribunal) Court in May 2018 had ordered the factory owner to restart the factory in 6 months, through an IRP (Insolvency Resolution Professional) process.

Stating that even the High Court, while hearing a petition from the employees, had called for State's intervention on the issue, Seshadri urged the Government not to allow Liquidation of the factory at any cost.

Seshadri also appealed the Minister to consider a PPP (Public-Private-Participation) model for revival of the factory, as it is a matter of life and death for hundreds of employees.

The Factory Management representatives, who attended the meeting, said that the company on its part has floated a tender for re-starting the factory, setting Oct. 28, 2018 deadline for interested parties.

Asserting that the company would honour the Court order, they said that necessary initiatives will be taken in this regard.

Pervert trouble continues at Nursing Students Hostel

K.R. Hospital RMO holds meeting, hears grievances

Mysuru, July 24 (RK,MK&KS)- K.R. Hospital Resident Medical Officer (RMO) Dr. Ganesh held a meeting with the parents of nursing students staying in the hostel and lecturers at Nursing School premises here this morning, following perverts entering the Girls Nursing Hostel premises on July 20 and last night.

The hostel inmates had staged a protest seeking adequate security yesterday.

During the meeting, the inmates explained the incidents to the RMO and their parents. The parents of the girls who are pursuing their Nursing course and staying at the hostel questioned the RMO about the safety of their children and negligence on the part of the Hospital authorities in providing adequate security to the hostel.

They urged the RMO to take steps to provide more security at the hostel and also at the Nursing School immediately which was agreed to by Dr. Ganesh.

Mysuru, Tuesday 24th July 2018

Attire attracts attention as well as accusation

Of the many splendoured things in life, love may have got away with top billing. Poets writing in virtually all languages across the world are known to have given their best shot in their scripts on love nurturing the platonic phenomenon in the crucible of romance. Scholars take fascination to invoke names of poets who have deeply touched their hearts and thrilled them no end. Lay people, who cannot be denied their right to give expression to their perception of love, owe it to the scholars for enriching the experience of merely talking about the abstract-yet-concrete phenomenon. While the littérateurs take the name of the 5th century classical writer Kalidasa, known for his romantic similes without parallel in recorded history, placing him at peak, we also hear many knowledgeable speakers invoking the name of late K.S. Narasimhaswamy (1915-2003) as the Kannada romantic poet, whose poems are sung where people with refined taste for literary works congregate. After savouring thoughts dominated by love and romance, one has to get back to the business of facing the realities of daily life, particularly after a quick run through the column of one's favourite rag, such as this one.

The print media is bringing to our doorsteps, nay breakfast table, information, knowledge, news and whatever that is happening at locations ranging between one's neighbourhood and far off lands across the world. What is coming in print, along with related images, comprises good, bad and indifferent class, mostly and unconsciously drawing our attention to events of despicable acts by members of society, including the so-called VIPs, who are not necessarily leading lights.

The act of carting away what belongs to others, a pastime as it were, has tended to be featuring residents of Mysuru city on an unprecedented scale nowadays, going by reports of such acts in dailies. Mysureans no longer wonder on reading reports of miscreants snatching gold chains from unwary women as such incidents are happening routinely. Yet another side to this new-found way of getting rich is that the victims of the crime don't seem to have derived any lesson in the process. Also, people seem to have treated instances of corrupt practices in most government offices no longer as reports having news value. Only when decently attired and unfamiliar persons, such as in an incident that took place in the city last week with false representation as officials, hoodwink residents and walk away with cash and valuables, the report attracts attention.

Confidence tricksters invariably come on the scene giving no room for suspicion. Although suspicion is an unsavoury term, it serves well sometimes to be suspicious. According to a humorously expressed situation, it befalls a badly attired person to be suspected of farting with foul odour around. A quote attributed to a former President of USA prescribes: Trust, but verify.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

LAGGING ON BEGGING: Rajya Sabha Chairman M. Venkaiah Naidu on Thursday pulled up Union Minister Jitendra Singh for using the "colonial" expression of "I beg to" while laying official papers on the table of the House. When the House met for the day, Singh laid the papers concerning the Department of Space, saying that "I beg to lay papers listed against my name..." This led Naidu to say, "We have given up begging one year back. You are lagging". He said members can just say "I rise to present a report etc". They "need not beg", he said. Naidu said though the expression "I beg to..." was not unparliamentary , it would be "proper to Indianise it. — In Business Standard.

Engineer builds a robot wife for himself

Hangzhou: A 31-year-old artificial intelligence expert from Hangzhou in China, has married one-year-old Yingying, a "female" robot that he has built himself.

Zheng Jiajia, the artificial intelligence expert with a master's degree in artificial intelligence, spent three years working for Chinese tech giant Huawei, before joining Hangzhou's Dream Town, a base for internet and tech startups, to work on artificial intelligence. Last year, he started working on a smart humanoid robot that ended up becoming his wife.

The female robot can allegedly say a few simple words, and is capable of recognizing Chinese characters and images. She weighs about 30 kilograms and is modeled according to the young engineer preferences in women.

Scientists bake bread out of cockroach flour

Rio: A couple of scientists have make a breakthrough in that area after successfully turning a species of cockroaches into flour and using it to bake bread.

Andressa Lucas and Lauren Menegon, two engineering students at the Federal University of Rio Grande, in Brazil, have developed a flour made from cockroaches that contains 40% more protein than regular wheat flour and can be used to make all kinds of baked goods.

It also contains lots of essential amino acids, as well as amino acids and lipids. And before you start acting all disgusted, the flour is not made from bugs like tho ones crawling through your kitchen at night, but of a species called Nauphoeta cinerea.

They are sourced from a specialized breeder, where they are produced according to the hygiene requirements of the ANVISA, the Brazilian health surveillance agency, and fed exclusively on fruits and vegetables. Interestingly, those who tasted the bread made with cockroach flour said that they had no difference in taste.

VOICE OF THE READER

Ordeal at Chamundi Hill during Ashada Friday

Sir,

I am a senior citizen aged 70 and had ventured to have darshan of Goddess Chamundeshwari on the special occasion of First Ashada Friday.

It took me two hours to get Rs. 50 ticket for darshan standing in line from 6 am to 8 am. I could get my turn for darshan only at 3.45 pm, after nearly 10 hours.

I have some suggestions to mitigate such hardships to the senior citizens, in particular.

1. Provide separate queue for elder citizens (age proof must) only on Ashada Fridays.

2. Provide another slot for mothers with baby-in-arms and pregnant women.

3. Consider introduction of online booking for darshan as prevalent in Tirupathi so that devotees can assemble at appropriate time thus avoiding long wait and crowd management is also eased.

4. Since I have first-hand experience, I am sharing my thoughts for better facilities for devotees of all ages and from all walks of life. Hope the authorities concerned will take note of my suggestions.

No street-light in JP Nagar since April 2018

Sir,

I wish to bring to the notice of the concerned about non-repair of street-lights at 23rd Main, 25th Cross, JP Nagar, since April 2018. Regarding this, a complaint has been given by my neighbour on 6th April 2018 but till today they have not come to repair and one more street-light by the side of this is also not burning since 15 days making the whole place very dark.

Ladies and children fear to walk on this road after dark. I tried to give a complaint over phone but it is always engaged. I just can't understand the working of the concerned department for taking such a long time to repair street-lights.

I, on behalf of my neighbours, request the concerned to take immediate action to restore the street-lights.

Mysuru-Bengaluru six-lane

NH work to begin from September

H.D. Revanna

Bengaluru, July 24 (KMS& NNN)- The widening work of the Mysuru-Bengaluru National Highway (NH) at a cost of Rs. 6,800 crore will begin from September this year, said Public Works Minister H.D. Revanna.

He was addressing a media conference here yesterday and said that he held discussions with Union Minister Nitin Gadkari in Delhi who has given his approval for the project.

Nearly 63 per cent of land has already been acquired and in another ten days 17 per cent of the acquisition will be completed. Later, the BESCom cables, water pipes and telephone cables on the Highway will be removed. In a few places the permission of the Forest Department is required for acquiring the land and all necessary arrangements are being made to resolve the issues, he said.

The work on the six-laning of the Highway which is expected to cut the travel time between the two cities to 90 minutes, will be taken up by the National Highway Authorities of India (NHAI) and quality work will be ensured with the State Government keeping a check, he said.

According to Revanna, the original deadline for the completion of the work was three years, but the Bhopal-head-quartered Dilip Buildcon who will execute the project is supposed to be the best in the country and they have been asked to complete the project within two years.

The NHAI has divided the work into two packages and one is Bengaluru-Nidaghatta (56.2km) and Nidghatta-Mysuru (61.1km), he said.

The Central Government has given Rs. 37,000 crore for National Highway work. Of this, NHAI is taking up projects costing Rs.27,000 crore and Rs. 10,022 crore will be utilised by the State to develop 466.84 km National Highway roads that pass through Kodagu, Shivamogga, Mysuru, Belagavi, Tumakuru and Chitradurga districts, he said.

On the occasion he also said that he was not interfering in the works of the other departments. "If I have written a letter to the Muzrai Minister regarding the work in our department, how can it be called interference," asked Revanna.

He also declined to comment on the promotions and demotions effected in his department as the matter relating to reservations in promotions was being heard in the Supreme Court.

Minister George promises to promote industries in Chamarajanagar

Chamarajanagar, July 24- With few takers for the Badanaguppe-Kellamballi Industrial area near Chamarajanagar, Large and Medium Scale Industries Minister K.J. George on Monday toured the area and held a review meeting at the Deputy Commissioner's Office here.

At the meeting, George told the officials and the stakeholders that the State Government would start initiatives to attract industries in zones developed in Badanaguppe and Kellamballi.

Asking the officials to develop basic infrastructure and make temporary arrangements to provide power and water connections to the Industrial area, he said the Industries Department should make all efforts to attract entrepreneurs and investors to Chamarajanagar, which has 1,164 acres of Industrial area.

Instructing the officials to extend all support to Industries once they get clearance from the Environment Department, George directed officials to expedite works on power and water supply as there is a wide scope to set up Mega Granite Factories.

Large and Medium Scale Industries Minister K.J. George seen with officials during an inspection of Badanaguppe-Kellamballi Industrial Area in Chamarajanagar yesterday.

Observing that Chamarajanagar has the potential for a Food Park and a Cold Storage Unit for turmeric, the Minister announced that the Government is ready to approve all facilities to promote industrialisation in a big way outside Bengaluru.

Urging all the Departments to chip in to promote industrialisation that would generate employment, George said plans are afoot to provide water from Kabini river to the industrial area.

Calling for drafting of a simpler Industrial Policy such as those in Andhra Pradesh and Telangana, he said a single window clearance system will be introduced to promote industrial development. He also interacted with industrialists during the meeting and gave a patient hearing to the issues raised by them.

Backward Classes Development Minister C. Puttarangashetty said there was no difficulty in providing temporary water and power supply at the industrial area.

Chamarajanagar MP R. Dhruvanarayan, MLA R. Narendra and MLC R. Dharmasena were among those in attendance at the meeting.

Earlier, the Minister who visited Badanaguppe-Kellamballi Industrial Area, completed his review in just six minutes, it is learnt. George was welcomed by Minister Puttarangashetty, Hanur MLA R. Narendra, ZP President Shivamma, Deputy Commissioner B.B. Cauvery, ZP CEO Dr. K. Harish Kumar and other officials.

GTD inspects Maharani's Science College

Mysuru, July 24 (RKB&DM)- Even as Maharani's Science College students staged a demo about 10 days ago seeking better facilities, Higher Education Minister G.T. Devegowda (GTD) visited the College for the second time in a week this morning.

The Minister was accompanied by Higher Education Commissioner Manjula, Secretary Rajkumar Khatri, Deputy Commissioner Abhiram G. Sankar, MUDA Commissioner P.S. Kantharaj, MCC Commissioner K.H. Jagadeesha and other officials.

As the Minister was going round the College, students from Arts, Commerce and Science streams complained to the Minister about the lack of basic amenities such as hygienic toilets, shortage of classrooms, ill-equipped laboratories, etc.

After finding that the College campus was too congested for thousands of students enrolled with the College, the Minister directed MUDA Commissioner to identify a five acre plot for construction of a new Arts College, which can accommodate hundreds of students.

Some students complained of the arrogance of the College Principal Channabasavegowda, when the Minister, after taking the Principal to task, advised him to give a patient hearing to the issues raised by the students.

H.S. Chandramouli appointed as State Public Prosecutor

Bengaluru, July 24- The State Government on Monday appointed senior advocate H.S. Chandramouli as State Public Prosecutor (SPP). This is Chandramouli's fourth stint as the SPP.

Chandramouli

Chandramouli, who hails from Kodlipet in Somwarpet taluk of Kodagu district, was allotted the Congress ticket from Madikeri constituency in the May Assembly polls.

But a couple of days after the allotment of the Congress ticket, the party withdrew it following reports that Chandramouli had represented Nirav Modi's relative in the Supreme Court in the PNB Bank scam.

Student goes missing from city

Sowmya

Mysuru, July 24 (KS)- A 23-year-old girl, who left her house on July 20 at about 12 noon, saying that she was going to the college to give books to her friends, has since gone missing.

The missing girl is Sowmya, daughter of Somanna and residing in Hebbal Police limits in city.

In his complaint, Somanna has stated that one Mahesh had asked him to get his daughter married to him, following which the marriage was to be held on July 6 at Lakshmikantha Temple. He has further stated that on July 3, Mahesh had gone to distribute his wedding invitations and later his phone has been switched off.

Sowmya, who went to the college on July 20, has sent a SMS to his (Somanna) sister's son Prasanna stating "Anna nanna huduka beda, idru avana jothe, sathru avana jothe. I am sorry anna, appa, amma," Somanna said and added that her (Sowmya) mobile phone is switched off since then.

Sowmya is 5 ft. tall, round faced, normal built, wheatish complexioned, speaks Kannada and English and was wearing a blue coloured top and a white and blue mixed colour chudidhar pant at the time of going missing. Those having any information about the missing girl, may contact Hebbal Police Station on Ph: 0821-2418318 or Police Control Room on Ph: 0821-2418339.

Free bus passes

only for Government School and College students

Ramanagaram, July 24 (US)- "It is being contemplated to provide free bus passes to only students of government schools and colleges," announced Chief Minister H.D. Kumaraswamy (HDK).

Kumaraswamy

Addressing a JD(S) Convention at Channapatna in Ramanagaram district yesterday, he contended that free bus passes were not needed for students who obtain admission in private schools paying lakhs of rupees as donation. He asked BJP not to politicise the issue utilising ABVP, adding that he too was adept in politics. He opined that TV channels were unnecessarily blowing the bus pass issue and questioned the ethics of Media.

Kumaraswamy asserted that after JD(S)-Congress coalition Government came to power, he, as the Chief Minister, had never assured free bus passes for all students though it was promised by the previous Congress Government.

The Rakshasa Culture Lives On

Point of VIEW

T.J.S. George

The relative smoothness of the No Confidence Motion in Parliament, hug and all, was welcome. But it does not hide the ugly truth — that civility in public discourse is disappearing in our country. Ministers use abusive language against opponents. Party spokesmen react with anger to legitimate criticism. Some leaders go to the extent of threatening to kill people they disapprove. These tendencies were unheard-of in the early years of independence. Discourtesy began with Emergency and has reached dangerous levels under the present dispensation.

Early this year, Goa Minister Vinod Palyekar called Kannadigas "harami" and said the Karnataka Government consisted of "habitual liars." Of course, he later said he was misquoted by journalists — a typical escape route for irresponsible politicians. This man represented the little known Goa Forward Party. The big leader of the big party, BJP, recently described the Opposition as "a bunch of mangoose, snakes and dogs caught together in a flood." Such attacks expose the low civilisational level of those who make them; their victims are not scarred at all.

Barack Obama's Vice-President Joe Biden recently drew attention to what should be the norm in public life. He criticised fellow Democrats for routinely attacking Republicans. He called that "divisive partisan politics" and said: "It's mean-spirited. It's petty." His own stand was: "We should not look at Republicans as our enemy. They are our opposition. They are not our enemy."

That sounds as if he was talking about India, that he was cautioning Indian politicians against "divisive partisanship" and telling them that such politics was mean-spirited and petty. But if a generation of our politicians have decided that pettiness is the way to win elections, is there a way out?

Decencies of the kind Biden mentioned are ignored and violent partisanship promoted when the ruling regime is itself given to partisanship and mean-spiritedness. Childish was the way the BJP's National Spokesman GVL Narasimha Rao reacted to the Tamil movie Mersal in which star actor Vijay had a dialogue criticising GST and demonetisation. Rao, shamelessly, went on air to say that "film stars had very low IQ and very low general knowledge." Another Spokesman said: "It's unfair to criticise the PM when he is working so hard." The net result was that the film got more box office draw, and the BJP's image went a notch down.

The way small time leaders of the BJP make statements that are actionable under law is a trend that deserves attention, the more so because no action is taken by anyone. Bihar's BJP leader Nityanand Rai told party workers last November: If anyone even raises eyebrows at the Prime Minister, break his hands and if necessary chop them off. The party's Madhya Pradesh MP Paresh Rawal tweeted: "Instead of tying stone-pelters on Today, despite nice debates in Parliament, all of India is Dandakaranya with asuras and rakshasas ruling the roost. There are Kharas and Dushanas around, but no Rama and Lakshmana to destroy the demons and protect the people.

Army jeep, tie Arundhati Roy." When Afrazul Khan was set on fire by Shambu Lal on charges of love jihad last November, Tripura Governor Tathagata Roy said: While jihadis were killing thousands across the world, how could anyone ask about just one man being killed in Rajasthan? At a Hindu Aikyavedi meeting in Kochi, its President K.P.Sasikala asked Secular writers to perform mrityunjaya homa at Shiva temples to save themselves from Gauri Lankesh's fate. Kundan Chandravat offered Rs. 1 crore to anyone who beheaded Pinarayi Vijayan. These are violations of the Indian Penal Code. Those in power are duty-bound to take action against them. But action was taken only in one case. And what action? Kundan Chandravat was removed from all the posts he held in the RSS.

When law shuts its eye before crime, it only means that violators have the backing of those in power. This is not always an ideological game. Kerala Police, headed by a comic figure, is split into factions that play political games; casual detainees in Police Stations are tortured to death in scandalously sadistic ways. In the Bastar region, both Congress leaders like P. Chidambaram and BJP leaders have been promoting Police action for "clearing out Maoist-infested areas." The impact became evident when I.K. Elesela, SP of a district in Bastar, spoke as chief guest at a heavy vehicles launch last year. He said human rights activists should be crushed on the roads with heavy vehicles. A sick man with a sick mind. But his punishment was a mere transfer.

Bastar is in Dandakaranya. Today, despite nice debates in Parliament, all of India is Dandakaranya with asuras and rakshasas ruling the roost. There are Kharas and Dushanas around, but no Rama and Lakshmana to destroy the demons and protect the people.

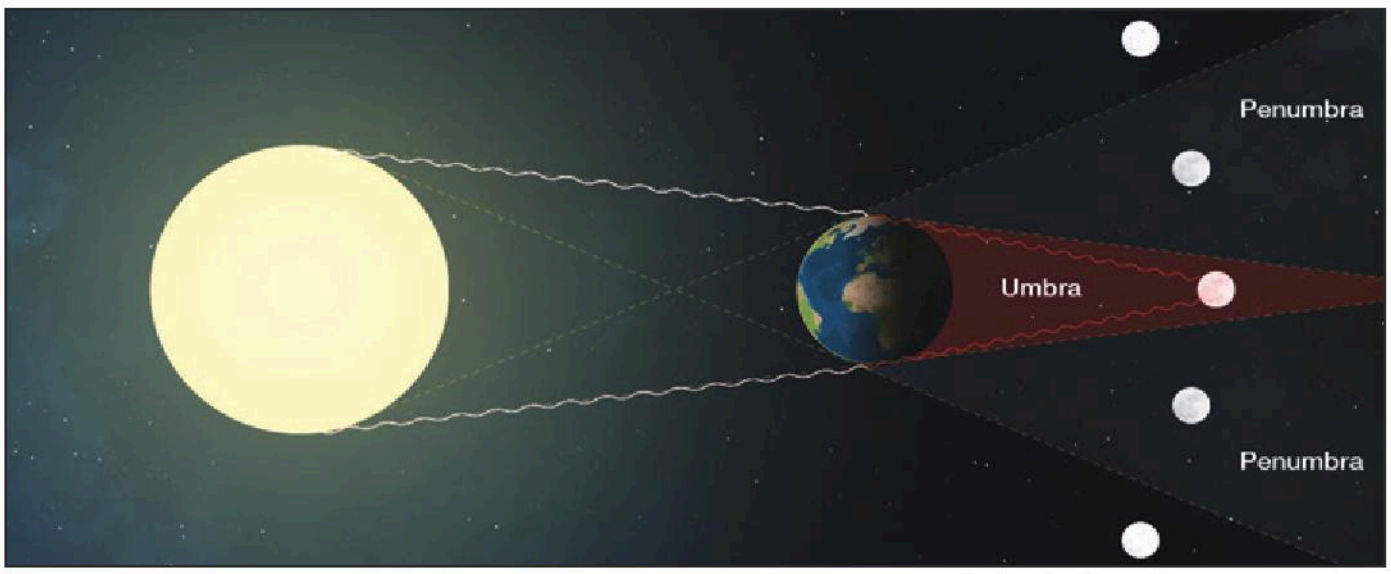
SKY WATCH

Longest Total Lunar Eclipse of the century on July 27, 28

By Dr. S.A. Mohan Krishna
Amateur Astronomer



None can forget the mesmerising Supermoon, Bloodmoon, Total Lunar Eclipse that occurred on January 31 this year! This astronomical occurrence was memorable and millions witnessed this spectacular spectacle. Analogously, on July 27 and 28, Indians are really privileged to witness a regular 'Total Lunar Eclipse.' This eclipse will be visible in the region covering Europe, Asia, Australia, Africa, Northern and Southern America, Indian, Atlantic and Pacific oceans. This eclipse can be seen from all parts of India. This Lunar Eclipse is regarded as the longest total lunar eclipse of this century with totality duration of 1 hour 43 minutes.

In simple words, Lunar Eclipse is the passage of the Moon through Earth's shadow. Lunar Eclipses, which may be total or partial, can occur only at full moon when Sun, Earth and Moon are in line. As the Sun is an extended light source, Earth's shadow has two components — a dark, central Umbra, where the Sun is completely obscured, and a lighter outer Penumbra, within which the obscuration is partial. During a Lunar Eclipse, the Moon passes first through the Penumbra, taking about an hour, moving eastward by its own diameter in this time, to reach the western edge of the Umbra.

During the Penumbral phase, the light of the full moon is only slightly reduced. A Lunar Eclipse occurs when the Moon passes through the Umbral region of the Earth's shadow and becomes imperceptible. Lunar Eclipse is discernible from a large part of the Earth. Lunar Eclipses usually precede or follow Solar Eclipses by a fortnight. During a total Eclipse of the Moon, the range of shading and the intensity of colour vary enormously.

No two Lunar Eclipses are ever quite the same, and although some dismiss them as of less interest than Solar Eclipses — particularly total Solar Eclipses, where the events centred on totality occur rapidly, in contrast with more stately progress of a Lunar Eclipse — they are fascinating to observe. Lunar Eclipses also have the advantage of being visible from the entire hemisphere of the Earth where the Moon is above the horizon, rather than being most impressive along a narrow track. The main difference from one event to another is the degree to which the totally eclipsed Moon is darkened and how colourful it might be.

The complete details of Total Eclipse of the Moon that can be seen from Mysuru are given below in Indian Standard Time (IST): The duration of the Total Lunar Eclipse visible on July 27 - 28 is 6 hours 14 minutes. The total eclipse will commence at 1:00 am on July 28 and terminates by 2:43 am on July 28. The greatest phase of the eclipse will eventuate at 2:43 am on July 28. The magnitude of the total eclipse of the Moon is 1.609. On July 27, the red planet Mars will have a closer encounter with Earth, which implies that, Sun and Mars will lie opposite to each other.

Details of Total Eclipse of the Moon that can be seen from Mysuru in IST

Astronomical Event	Total Lunar Eclipse (July 27 - 28)
Penumbral Eclipse Begins	10:44 pm on July 27
Partial Eclipse Begins	11:54 pm on July 27
Total Eclipse Begins	01:00 am on July 28
Maximum Phase of the Eclipse	01:51 am on July 28
Total Eclipse Ends	02:43 am on July 28
Partial Eclipse Ends	03:49 am on July 28
Penumbral Eclipse Ends	04:58 am on July 28
Magnitude of the Eclipse	1.609

Following first contact, the Moon's more easterly limb will show a growing dark "nick" as it begins to enter the Umbra more deeply. At a Total Lunar Eclipse, Moon takes about an hour to become completely immersed in the Umbra. To begin with, there is little to see beyond a darkening of part of the Moon, but as the eclipsed portion increases, some colour may become evident. The curved edge of the Umbra may show a slight blue fringe. Refraction of sunlight — particularly at the red end of the spectrum — through Earth's atmosphere means that the Umbra is not completely dark. Consequently, the Moon does not usually disappear from view; instead, it is dimmed and often takes on a reddish colour, which becomes increasingly apparent as the Umbral phase advances.

The diameter of Earth's Umbra is thought by some to change in response to solar activity, perhaps decreasing at solar maximum as the upper atmosphere becomes slightly more extended in response to increased ultraviolet and X-Ray emissions. Many observers try to measure the precise extent of the Umbra during eclipses by timing the passage of its edge across identifiable Lunar features such as craters. Unless a Lunar Eclipse is very dark, it is usually quite easy to make out the dark Maria, contrasting with the brighter, cratered highlands, with the naked eye.

At totality, the Moon — completely immersed in shadow — normally shows red, orange and yellow colours, often with some gradation. Those parts of the Moon closer to the edge of the Umbra often appear somewhat brighter and more yellowish than those toward the centre, which are redder. Sunlight diffusing through the Earth's atmosphere bathes the Moon in a dull glow that reduces it to about one ten-thousandth the normal brightness of the full Moon. The same principle causes the early-evening sky to remain relatively bright, even though the Sun is below the horizon.

The shadow's darkness varies with the amount of cloud, dust and pollution that is suspended in the Earth's atmosphere at the time of the Eclipse. Occasionally, the obscuration is sufficiently dense to make the Moon disappear, while at other times, the shadow imparts only a pale rusty hue to the Moon. There is absolutely no harm in witnessing this gorgeous astronomical spectacle and could be clearly witnessed by using a reflecting telescope or astral binoculars. The duration of totality in a Lunar Eclipse depends on how nearly centrally the Moon passes through the Umbra; a central passage gives a maximum of 1 hour 47 minutes. During totality, any lighter border on the Moon will appear to move gradually round from the westerly to the easterly limb. Totality ends when the Moon's easterly limb re-emerges into sunlight, and over the next hour or so the full moon exits the Umbra to regain its usual brilliance, thereafter clearing the Penumbra.

A Total Lunar Eclipse unfolds as follows: About 20 minutes before the Moon is scheduled to enter the shadow zone, the eastern edge of the Moon becomes slightly dusky, indicating that the shadow region is nearby. However, when the edge of the Moon actually contacts the shadow, the darkening effect is unmistakable. During a total eclipse, the Moon takes about an hour to slip into the shadow. Once it is fully immersed, the Total Eclipse begins and can last anywhere from a few minutes to one and half hours. The Moon swings out of the Earth's shadow during the final hour of the event. During the 10 minutes centred on mid-totality, try a visual estimate of the darkness of the Eclipse during a scale developed by a French Astronomer Andre Louis Danjon (1890-1967). The level of darkness is often described in terms of the Danjon Scale. This scale is intended for unaided-eye estimates: Zero on Danjon's scale is a very dark eclipse, One is a dark grey or brownish eclipse, Two is a deep red or rust-coloured eclipse, Three is a brick-red eclipse and Four is a bright copper-red or orange eclipse. If the eclipse seems to be between two categories — One and Two, it can be recorded as 1.5 on Danjon scale. Remember, the scale is for unaided-eye estimates; binoculars or telescopes make the eclipsed Moon appear brighter.

At Mysuru, the best viewing location is from Chamundi Hill. After this year, the next time that a Blue Moon passes through Earth's Umbra will be on Dec.31, 2028, and, after that, on Jan.31, 2037. Both of these Eclipses will be total. Before 2017, there was an 8 percent partial eclipse on Dec.31, 2009, but, for a Total Eclipse of a Blue Moon, we have to go all the way back to March 31, 1866. Large telescopes or high magnifications are of little value for observing a Lunar Eclipse. It is always recommended using binoculars or a small low-power telescope, since they both allow the entire Moon to be viewed during the event.

Next Lunar Eclipse can be seen on July 17, 2019. So, do not forget to witness the century's longest duration Total Lunar Eclipse of this century on July 27 - 28.

Sri Venugopala Swamy Temple

Mysuru, July 24 (SBD&NNN)- Even as monsoon continues unabated in the State filling dams and reservoirs, the visitors are flocking the tourist destinations to witness nature's bounty and water spectacle.

In the midst of all this, apart from Krishna Raja Sagar (KRS) dam, which is drawing huge crowds, is the other major attraction that is close by and it is the restored 700-year-old Sri Venugopala Swamy temple at the backwaters of KRS near Hosa Kannambadi village.

The clean serene surroundings and the picturesque ambience is drawing huge crowds and nearly 15,000 people visited the temple on Sunday. The temple is located in a vast area which also has Hoysala-type architecture stone chariot a nd other attractions.

Since the reservoir has reached the maximum level of 124.80 feet, the backwater touches the outer walls of Sri Venugopala Swamy temple. The whole place has been fully secured keeping in mind the tourist safety. The temple is not only a pilgrimage shrine but a tourist attraction too, though devotees are not allowed to offer coconuts and flowers. In fact, the temple does not even have a hundi (donation box) for offerings. The temple is yet to be formally inaugurated.

"I had visited the place two years ago and I went there along with my family members from Bengaluru who had all heard about the restored Sri Venugopala Swamy temple. We drove there early in the morning on Sunday to find that there is lot of improvement in the place. We stayed till afternoon enjoying the backwaters and the beautiful idol of Lord Krishna," said G. M. Manjunath, a resident of Mysuru, speaking to Star of Mysore.

The temple, which was earlier located at Kannambadi, was said to be built at the same time when Channakeshava temple was constructed by Hoyasala king during the 12th century. But with the construction of KRS dam the entire village of Kannambadi submerged. At this time, the then King Nalwadi Krishnaraja Wadiyar ordered for the construction of the new village which was named Hosa Kannambadi.

Another Mysurean, M.B. Malathi Prakash, who has settled in Bengaluru, came all the way from there along with her Ladies Club members and spent the whole day in the backwaters and visiting the temple. She was so invigorated with the atmosphere surrounding the temple that she again planned a trip with her family on Sunday last.

As the tourist footfall is increasing, the roadside vendors selling soft drinks, short eats have also cropped up finding business opportunity.

The Khoday Foundation, which relocated the temple block by block under the guidance of late Sri Hari Khoday, has constructed toilets, bathrooms and is developing the garden with fountain in phases.

With the popularity of the spot growing by the day, the tourist inflow is bound to go up during the peak season of Dasara and Deepavali.

Conference on Urban Renewal of Heritage Cities

Mysuru, July 24-The Mysore School of Architecture (MSA) in association with University of Liverpool, Department of Architecture and the JSS University of Science & Technology (JSS S&T) is organising a conference on Urban Renewal of Heritage Cities on July 25 at 5 pm in IS & CS Golden Jubilee Bhavan, SJCE.

JSS S&T University Vice Chancellor Prof. B.G. Samgameshwara is the chief guest. The guest speakers include Prof. Soumyen Bandyopadhyay, Head of the Department, Sir James Stirling Chair in Architecture, Dr. Urmila Jha Thakur, Lecturer, Department of Geography and Planning, Dr. Giamila Quattrone, Lecturer in Architecture and Dr. Ian Hollis Magadera, all from University of Liverpool. Prof. D. S. Ramakrishna Rao, Design chair of the MSA, one of the speakers in his introduction to the conference said that the Indian Urban fabric is experiencing a rapid development in every part of the country through the proliferation of malls, large scale multi-storied housing and peripheral growth beyond the venerable boundaries of our cities.

This process is indifferent to the significance and importance of our Heritage cities, Heritage buildings, monuments and other elements are being cast away into the realms of obscurity by the lack of proper urban planning and a balance between the process of urbanisation and maintaining the solemnity of the Heritage cities.

We must address through this conference the process of Urban Renewal for Heritage Cities with a culturally sensitive, cautious and planned approach to ensure the survival of our Heritage, said Prof. Ramakrishna Rao.

With no truce in sight, lorry strike enters Day-5

Mysuru, July 24 (RKB&US)- With no truce in sight, the on-going nation-wide lorry strike continued for the fifth day today.

Though the APMC Yard in Bandipalya and Regulated Market Complex on Sayyaji Rao Road continued to remain empty, the residents are yet to bear the brunt of the strike as retailers have enough stock of supplies so also the wholesale traders.

Taking a softer stand on local farmers, lorry owners are said to be transporting vegetable and fruits keeping in mind the perishable nature of the items.

As of now, no price rise has been reported at retail shops possibly owing to good stocks. Only when the stocks at Wholesale Market reach rock bottom and supplies to retailers hit, the prices of commodities may tend to rise.

Members of Mysuru and Chamarajanagar Lorry Owners Association staged a stir in front of APMC Yard in Bandipalya this morning.

They intend to intensify the strike by resorting to road blockage on Highway if the Government continue to remain silent.

With no work, labourers at APMC Yard were seen playing cricket in the Yard.

The inmates of the hostel, alleging security lapse, staged a protest in front of the hostel last night, suspecting that another pervert had entered the Girls Nursing Hostel at K.R. Hospital premises. They said that the pervert had thrown stones at the hostel windows, which had injured an inmate.

The incident took place at about 7.30 pm last night. Ironically, MLA L. Nagendra had visited the hostel yesterday morning, following reports that a pervert had entered the hostel on July 20. He had instructed MMC&RI Dean and Director Dr. Nanjaraja to take steps to provide adequate security to the hostel as the students had alleged that the pervert had tried to take away clothes that were hung outside for drying and assaulted a few inmates.

The inmates said that they would not enter the hostel till adequate security arrangements were made for their safety. But, when the Police personnel launched a search for the pervert at the hostel premises, they could not find anyone and tried to convince the inmates but in vain.

The hostel inmates told the Police that they had indeed seen the pervert and were not speaking by imagining things. Expressing fear of walking alone even during day time, the protesting girls said that they had come from rural places to study and questioned, "How can we stay here when there is no security provided to us?"

Meanwhile, two protesting students collapsed and were rushed to K.R. Hospital where they were treated. The girls withdrew the protest only after two women Police personnel among nine Police personnel were deployed at the hostel.

K.R. Hospital Medical Superintendent Dr. M. Srinivas said that despite two private security and Police personnel deployed at the hostel for security and two lecturers staying in the hostel, such incidents have shocked us.

We have asked the students not to leave the hostel as it is exam time. But when students insist that they have to go, we take the permission of their parents and send them.

Devaraja Sub-Division ACP Gajendra Prasad said that the hospital authorities have deployed private security personnel to the hostel and added that the Police cannot provide security to all government hostels but keeping in mind the safety of the students, Police personnel have been deployed at the hostel.

Passengers injured as private bus topples near Yedathore

About 20 passengers travelling in a private bus from Mysuru to Wadeyara Palya were injured when the bus toppled near Yedathore this morning after the bus driver lost control of the vehicle. The injured were treated at T. Narasipur General Hospital and the seriously injured were shifted to K.R. Hospital in Mysuru. T. Narasipur Police have registered a case in this regard. The bus was carrying about 50 passengers.

Two killed as borewell lorry topples in H.D. Kote

H.D. Kote, July 24 (BM&DM)- Two persons were killed and four others sustained injuries, when the borewell lorry they were travelling in, toppled at Chikka Kereyur Tank bund in H.D. Kote taluk this morning.

The deceased have been identified as Avinash (23) and K. Sharavana (23), while all the injured were taken to a hospital in Mysuru for treatment.

The victims, who were all labourers and natives of Tamil Nadu and Chhattisgarh, were travelling in the lorry to dig a borewell near Chikka Kereyur when the lorry turned turtle.

While Avinash and Sharavana died on-the-spot, the four injured were rushed to H.D. Kote General Hospital, from where they were shifted to a hospital in Mysuru, it is learnt.

The H.D. Kote Police have registered a case in this regard.

Takes over as Jt. Director of Food & Civil Supplies

Mysuru, July 24- With the post of Senior Deputy Director of Food and Civil Supplies Department upgraded to Joint Director, Shivanna took charge as Joint Director of Food and Civil Supplies Department here on Saturday.

Shivanna

Speaking to SOM, after taking charge, Shivanna said that he assumed charge on Saturday on Government's direction.

Pointing out that the post was meant for Senior Deputy Director till 2015, he said that the Government upgraded the post to Joint Director in all City Corporations and accordingly, he took charge on Saturday.

It may be mentioned here that Senior Deputy Director Dr. K. Rameshwarappa was suspended after over a thousand quintals of 'Anna Bhagya' rice went missing from Nanjangud godown earlier this month.

But Dr. Rameshwarappa succeeded in bringing a stay to his suspension from the KAT and even before he could resume office, Shivanna took charge as Joint Director in the upgraded post.

WORD OF THE DAY

Festinate

Pronunciation: FESS-tuh-nayt.
Meaning: Act or move at high speed; hasten.

Origin: Festinate is one among many in the category of words whose early recorded use is in the works of William Shakespeare. He used it as an adjective (which is pronounced \FESS-tuh-nut\) in King Lear, for example: "Advise the Duke where you are going, to a most festinate preparation." Perhaps the Bard knew about festinatus, the Latin predecessor of festinate, or was familiar with the Latin proverb festina lente — "make haste slowly." Shakespeare also used the adverb festinately in Love's Labour's Lost: "Bring him festinately hither," Don Ariano de Armado orders. First evidence of the verb festinate, meaning "to hasten," occurs post-Shakespeare, however. Examples: The patient's tendency to festinate meant that he was at risk of falling. "He rocketed almost uncontrollably to the piano, but once there, played a Chopin nocturne with exquisite control and timing and grace —only to festinate once again as soon as the music ended." — Oliver Sacks, Musicophila, 2007.

THE ODD WORD

Futz

To waste time or busy oneself aimlessly

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Before you could say Jack Robinson

Meaning: In a very short time; suddenly.
Origin: It would be pleasing to be able to point to a historical figure called Robinson who was the source of this expression. Regrettably, we can't. It could well be that there was an actual Jack Robinson who was reputed to be quick in some way, but, if that's the case, any reliable record of him has disappeared. It is just as likely that Jack Robinson was a mythical figure and no more real than Jack Tar, Jack Frost or Jack the Giant Killer.
It is known that the phrase was in circulation by the end of the 18th century as Mme. Frances D'Arblay (Fanny Burney) used it then in her romantic novel Evelina, or the history of a young lady's entrance into the world in 1778: "For the matter of that there," said the Captain, "you must make him a soldier, before you can tell which is lightest, head or heels. Howsomever, I'd lay ten pounds to a shilling, I could whisk him so dexterously over into the pool, that he should light plump upon his foretop and turn round like a tetotum." "Done!" cried Lord Merton; "I take your odds." "Will you?" returned he; "why, then, 'fore George, I'd do it as soon as say Jack Robinson." Sir John Robinson was the Constable of the Tower of London for several years from 1660 onward. Some have suggested that he was the source of the phrase and have bequeathed him a reputation for hastily chopping off people's heads.
